The crossword puzzle grid consists of a central horizontal row of 11 boxes. The 2nd, 4th, 6th, 8th, and 10th boxes from the left contain the letters M, L, I, C, and H respectively. The 1st, 3rd, 5th, 7th, 9th, and 11th boxes are empty. There are also vertical columns of empty boxes: a column of 4 boxes to the left of the 'M' box, a column of 3 boxes between the 'M' and 'L' boxes, a column of 2 boxes between the 'L' and 'I' boxes, a column of 2 boxes between the 'I' and 'C' boxes, a column of 2 boxes between the 'C' and 'H' boxes, and a column of 5 boxes to the right of the 'H' box. Above the grid, three icons are shown with arrows pointing to the start of vertical words: a monkey (labeled 1) points to the top of the 3rd box, an eye (labeled 2) points to the top of the 5th box, and an anchor (labeled 3) points to the top of the 7th box. Below the grid, three icons are shown with numbers indicating the start of horizontal words: an apple (labeled 1) is below the 2nd box, a suit (labeled 2) is below the 6th box, and a pineapple (labeled 3) is below the 11th box.
