Viel Erfolg!

Read Lena's diary entry from her holiday in Wales.

Tuesday, 14 July

Dear Diary,

What a day! When I woke up this morning, Mum had already packed our lunch, and Dad had checked the weather on his phone. "No rain today," he said – but he was wrong.

We drove to a small harbour on the coast of Wales. We wanted to take a boat to an island where lots of puffins live. Unfortunately, the boat had left ten minutes before we arrived, because we had got lost on the narrow roads. My little brother Ben was really upset. He had never seen a puffin before!

So we visited an old castle on a hill instead. It was great! A guide told us that a Welsh prince had lived there about eight hundred years ago. After we had climbed up the tallest tower, we could see the sea and even the puffin island.

In the afternoon it started to rain, and we were soaking wet when we got back to the car. Luckily, Mum had brought dry jumpers for everybody.

In the evening we went back to the harbour and bought tickets for tomorrow's boat. I hope we'll see some puffins then!
