The Saturday Fix-it Club

by Amira, Year 8

- [1] Every Saturday morning, the old hall behind Brookhill Library is full of noise. People of all ages come in with broken things: lamps, bikes, toys, radios and even a guitar. They are visitors of the Saturday Fix-it Club, and the people who help them are pupils from our school.
- [2] The club started two years ago. Our science teacher, Mr Okoro, often saw old bikes and chairs next to the bins in his street. "Most of these things only needed a small repair," he says. "It was sad to see them there." So he asked some pupils to help him, and the club was born. At first there were only five members. Now there are twenty-three.
- [3] Today Leo (13) is repairing a toy car for a little boy called Danny. Leo is concentrating hard because the wheels are very small. "Last year I couldn't even change a light bulb," he laughs. "Now I'm the best in the club at fixing toys." His friend Hannah prefers bikes. She can repair a flat tyre in ten minutes – she is even faster than Mr Okoro!
- [4] The club doesn't take money for repairs. But visitors often bring cakes or biscuits for the helpers, and some of them give the club old tools that they don't need any more.
- [5] Next spring the club is going to open a second room. There the members are going to show people how to repair their own things. "We don't want people to throw things away," says Hannah. "A lot of things can have a second life."

Beispiellösung:

Dear Mr Okoro,

My name is Tim, I'm twelve years old and I'm in Year 7 at your school. I read the article about the Fix-it Club and I would like to join it. I can repair flat tyres, and I would like to learn how to fix lamps and radios. I have time on Saturday mornings, but not every week, because I sometimes play football. Do I need my own tools?

And can my sister come too? She is eleven.

Best wishes, Tim
